What are the premium rates for the plans?

The final rates are now available for employees on the HR Benefits web site under Open Enrollment. Rates for retirees are available on the Retirement Services web site for both Federated and Police and Fire retirees.

When will the changes be effective?

The Anthem plans and rates will be effective January 1, 2020. You will be able to enroll in Anthem’s plans during open enrollment: between October 21 and November 8, 2019 for employees and between November 1 and November 30, 2019 for retirees.

What do Blue Shield and Sutter Health Plus Members need to do?

CHOOSING A PLAN THAT’S RIGHT FOR YOU

What is the difference between HMO and PPO Plans?

The differences between HMO and PPO plans include plan costs, the size of the plan network, ability to see specialists, and coverage for out-of-network services.

Costs for HMO plans will be less, as premiums tend to be lower and there is no deductible. With an HMO you will need to select a primary care physician (PCP) and you will need a referral from the PCP if you want to see a specialist.

Costs for PPO plans will be higher, as premiums tend to be higher and there is a deductible. However, PPOs are more flexible in that you do not need to select a PCP and no referral is needed to see a specialist.

What is an HMO Plan?

A Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) plan gives you access to certain doctors and hospitals within its network. A network is made up of providers who have agreed to lower their rates for plan members and meet quality standards. But unlike PPO plans, care under an HMO plan is covered only if you see a provider within that HMO’s network. There are also typically more restrictions for coverage than other plans, such as allowing only a certain number of visits, tests or treatments. With an HMO plan, out-of-network coverage is limited to emergencies; non-emergency services are not covered.

Some other key points about HMOs:

• You will be required to select a primary care physician (PCP), who will determine what treatment you need and coordinate your care.

• You may need a PCP referral to be covered when you see a specialist or have a special test done.
• If you opt to see a doctor outside of an HMO network, there is no coverage, meaning you will have to pay the entire cost of medical services.
• Premiums are generally lower for HMO plans, and there is usually no deductible.

Anthem Select HMO Plans

• Robust network of medical groups, hospitals and doctors within 22 key counties statewide.
• Access to over 27,000 California Select HMO doctors and specialists, more than 390 hospitals including Good Samaritan, and Santa Clara County Individual Practice Association (SCCIPA).
• Choice of two HMO plans:
  o $20 Copay Select HMO
  o $1500 Deductible Select HMO

What is a PPO Plan?

A Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) plan features a network of providers, and lets you see doctors both in and outside of the plan network, providing more flexibility when picking a doctor or hospital. Providers in the network agree to accept lower payments in exchange for access to patients. However, when you seek care from doctors outside of your plan network, you will usually pay more.

Here are some key features of a PPO:

• You can see a doctor or specialist without having to see a PCP first.
• You can see a doctor or go to a hospital outside the network and you may be covered. However, your benefits will be better if you stay in the PPO network.
• In-network providers offer lowest out-of-pocket costs; out-of-network providers have a higher cost.
• Premiums tend to be higher, and it’s common for there to be a deductible.

Anthem PPO Plans

• Exceptional network of medical groups, hospitals, and doctors nation-wide.
• Anthem offers a Select PPO and two Classic PPOs:
  o $100 Deductible Select PPO
  o $100 Deductible Classic PPO
  o $2500 Deductible Classic PPO (HDHP*) w/Health Savings Account (HSA)

What is difference between Anthem’s Select and Classic Plans?

City of San José is offering (2) Select HMO plans, (1) Select PPO plan and (2) Classic PPO plans. The Classic network is Anthem’s largest network of providers and facilities and includes Sutter doctors In-Network.
Anthem’s Select network is a narrow network of providers and facilities. For the Select HMO plans, Sutter doctors are not included in the network. For the Select PPO plan, Sutter doctors are not included In-Network; however, they are available Out of Network. If you would like to see a Sutter doctor in-network, you must choose one of the Classic PPO plans. Both of these networks include Santa Clara Individual Practice Association (SCCIPA) and Good Samaritan Hospital, among other preferred providers. Before choosing your plan, you should confirm in which network your desired providers participate.

Following is a partial list of local Medical Groups and Hospitals in Anthem’s Select and Classic networks:

Medical Groups
- Affinity Medical Group
- Alta Bates Medical Group
- Asian American Medical Group
- Dignity Health

What is a HDHP or High Deductible Health Plan?

Like the name says, this type of plan’s deductible is higher than most traditional plans. Your monthly premium payment will be much lower, but you’ll have to pay more out-of-pocket until you have met your higher deductible. Also, HDHPs have a higher Out-of-Pocket limit, especially if using an out-of-network provider. They can offer substantial savings if you are in good health and don’t use benefits often. Note: HDHPs aren’t always the best option for patients, especially those who expect to have significant healthcare expenses in the future. Those patients may be better off with an insurance plan that charges higher premiums upfront but covers a greater percentage of their costs.

Their advantages:

- The number one benefit: cost savings for people who are relatively healthy.
- With an HDHP, you can qualify for a health savings account (HSA) to help cover out-of-pocket expenses. You need to be enrolled in an HDHP to have an HSA.

Anthem’s High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP) is the $2500 Deductible Classic PPO plan.
What is a Health Savings Account (HSA)?

A health savings account (HSA) is a tax-advantaged medical savings account available for those who are enrolled in a high-deductible health plan (HDHP). You need to be enrolled in an HDHP to qualify for an HSA. It is a handy way to save for medical expenses and reduce your taxable income. The HSA account is yours forever and is funded by pre-tax dollars through payroll deductions. It is also an investment fund, so it can grow with you even into retirement.

An HSA would be most appealing to an individual or family that has relatively modest medical care expenses, can afford a high-deductible medical plan, and could take advantage of the substantial tax benefits of a health savings account.

For an HSA, you must keep receipts to prove that your withdrawals were used for qualified health expenses.

The Internal Revenue Service sets contribution limits. For 2019, for example, the limit is $3,500 for individuals and $7,000 for families, plus an additional $1,000 "catch-up" contribution for anyone age 55 or older by the end of the tax year.

IMPORTANT NOTES:

- You are not able to have both an HSA and an FSA (Flexible Spending Account) Medical Reimbursement Account. You may, however, have both an HSA and an FSA Dependent Care Account.
- Once you are over age 65 and enrolled in Medicare, you can no longer contribute to an HSA, but you can still use the money for eligible out-of-pocket medical expenses.

Their advantages:

- You can use the funds at any time on eligible medical expenses. This includes deductibles, copays and coinsurance, plus other qualified medical expenses not covered by your plan, as well as dental and vision expenses. Insurance premiums, however, usually cannot be paid for with HSA funds.
- Unlike a Flexible Spending Account, your HSA balance rolls over from year to year, so you never have to worry about losing your savings.
- Portability. The money in your HSA remains available for future qualified medical expenses even if you change health insurance plans, go to work for a different employer, or retire.
- Convenience. Most HSAs issue a debit card, so you can pay for prescription medications and other eligible expenses right away.
- Tax advantages:
  - HSA contributions are pre-tax/tax deductible.
  - The money can be invested in mutual funds, stocks and other investment tools to generate more money.
The money grows tax-free, which means that you don’t pay taxes on the account’s growth, and if you make withdrawals for eligible expenses, you don’t pay tax on that money either.

Anthem’s HSA

- Anthem’s HSA is available with the $2500 Deductible Classic PPO plan which is their High Deductible Health Plan.
- Anthem’s HSA is offered through ActWise using PCN Bank.
- Contributions are made with pre-tax dollars through payroll deductions.
- You will be issued a debit card to pay for your eligible expenses.
- There is currently no monthly maintenance fee nor minimum balance requirement associated with Anthem’s HSA.

What is a Medicare Advantage Plan?

Medicare Advantage (MA) Plans are an “all in one” alternative to Original Medicare. A Medicare Advantage Plan allows you to assign your Medicare Part A, Part B and Part D to a private insurance company. The private insurance company assumes all of the risk for your care and will no longer be billing Medicare as the primary insurer. The private insurance carrier will pay claims directly to the provider.

Anthem’s Medicare Advantage Plans

With Anthem Medicare Advantage:

- Only one ID Card (you no longer have to show your Medicare card along with your insurance carrier card) and this one ID Card will be for both your medical and prescription services.
- No more multiple Explanation of Benefits from both Medicare and the insurance company.
- Better overall care through chronic and disease management programs.

Anthem offers two Medicare Advantage Plans:

- Medicare Advantage HMO
  - Anthem’s Medicare Advantage HMO is offered at no cost to City retirees.
- Medicare Advantage PPO
  - Anthem’s Medicare Advantage PPO is offered at a very low cost to City retirees.

What if I need emergency medical care while traveling outside the county?

Your Anthem plans have coverage for services and supplies furnished in connection only with urgent care or an emergency when travelling outside the United States through Blue Cross Blue Shield Global Core.

In most cases, members do not have to pay upfront for inpatient care at participating Blue Cross Blue Shield Global Core hospitals, except for the out-of-pocket costs normally paid (non-covered services, deductible, copays, and coinsurance). The participating hospitals are able to submit claims on members’ behalf.

To look for participating providers, visit www.bcbsglobalcore.com.
